December 5, 1984. *706 William T. Thurman, Salt Lake City, for defendant and appellant. David L. Wilkinson, Atty. Gen., Terry L. Ahlstedt, Asst. Atty. Gen., Salt Lake City, for plaintiff and respondent. HALL, Chief Justice: Barry Lee Holloway appeals his conviction for aggravated burglary, U.C.A., 1953, § 76-6-203 (1978 Repl.Vol. 8), arguing that the trial court erred in (1) denying him a new trial because of newly discovered evidence and (2) denying his motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, based on insufficient evidence. We affirm. On July 10, 1983, Holloway and a companion, Jerry Hance, were arrested after they broke into a home in South Jordan and stole five rifles. On September 14, 1983, Holloway appeared before the district court for a preliminary hearing. At that time, Holloway gave notice of his intent to plead guilty. The district court set a sentencing date of October 17, 1983. Holloway's attorney was notified of the date by a letter from the attorney for the State. On October 11, 1983, Holloway appeared with his attorney at his arraignment on the charge of aggravated burglary. He was placed on a 72-hour hold to determine if he would enter a plea of guilty, and the court set the sentencing hearing for October 15, 1983. At this time, the attorney for the State informed the district court that Holloway's attorney had previously stated that Holloway would plead guilty. Although Holloway's attorney was not present, Holloway stated that
