The beautiful deep blue waves are flowing down the screen of your computer. They are flowing from left to right on a soft light blue background with white outlines. This background is an amazing combination of peace and harmony, which is shown in various ways when you look at this beautiful ocean themed wallpaper. You can see that there are some subtle hints of grey in the dark parts of the picture. Still, the bright spots of the ocean water remain the most visible one. All in all, this wallpaper created by the freeware software named AquaPaint Video, is a very peaceful and soothing wallpaper that will look great on your computer screen. There is nothing fancy about this picture, but the soothing colour scheme makes it perfect for relaxing your eyes on a hard and busy day. The waves are all grey-blue, which is great to make your screen looks more sober. This is a very nice, soothing wallpaper made with the freeware software named AquaPaint Video. You can make it even more soothing by simply turning it on your computer in a quiet environment and enjoy the beautiful nature around. Since the picture is so simple in its construction, you can keep it on your computer screen for quite a long time without feeling bored. All in all, this picture by the Aqua Paint Video created is a very relaxing image that you can add as your desktop background.
