Aarakshan hindi movie 720p official, 27:25. The film serves the theme of "The Whistleblowers" as well. Sharma runs. . . Share Your opinion. Log in to leave a review. Great News, Swadesh. India has a bad past with its film industry and the hullabaloo. "It any cows in the room." Let me clarify that for you a little bit. Your statement that "there were no cows in the room" was very close to the statement that "there were no tens of millions of people in the room" when you said that there were no Republicans in the room debating or discussing the $1.2 trillion spending bill. And it should be clear to any sentient being that a tens of millions of people in a room could not possibly agree on anything. I don't need to point out that hundreds of millions of people do agree on things, however, it would take me away from the key point I was making, which is: the Republicans, you, and all of you out there who make claims about what happened at the Republican conference could not possibly be smarter than the people who control the Senate and the House, and who left the room without making any cuts to the spending bill, and who threatened the approval of the bill by Democrats who voted against it. So the fact remains that not only was there no serious discussion of the spending bill in the Republican caucus, but also the real targets of your and the Republican right's vitriol were not even in the room. You wouldn't know a dumb person if one walked up to you and said "I am a Republican and I want to stop playing games with your party, and I want to force out the crazy people who in turn harm me and my party, but I will not work with you and I will not try to make the Republicans a party of sane people like you." Think about what that means. The minute you attack the president for spending $1.2 trillion you are attacking the Republican majority and their leadership in Congress. If you are an elected representative of your district the last thing you want is for the public to think you are part of a party run by people like Donald Trump, people who have chased out any sense of responsibility for the state of the nation, and are now out only looking out for their own perks and power, and their own stature in
