In the form_test.module file, I have: $form['user']['name']['#default_value'] = 'Hello'; $form['user']['name']['#attributes']['data-test-name'] = 'My Module'; In the form_test.html.twig file, I have: {{ node.my_module }} {{ node.my_module.name }} The Drupal site is running on a shared server and I'm using Acquia Dev Desktop 5.36.0, with the latest version of ddev (trial 3.0.1). When I run the site, I get: The module has not been loaded. Notice: Undefined index: name in form_test_theme() (line 7 of form_test_module.js). The Form API is enabled. I have tried exporting the module as a drupal module in ddev, and I get the same error. I've added the module config file to ddev also, but it also gets removed after building the site. Has anybody any suggestions on what I'm doing wrong? Is there something I can do about the logging errors? Does anybody have a working example for a custom module with Form API? A: In Acquia Dev Desktop when you import a module that will be automatically installed on your local Drupal site, it will remove the original module from the production server. This is why your server was getting the message: Module has been disabled. If you want to keep the module you can install the module to dev or test instead of production by using e79caf774b

Airdroid is the simple & easy-to-use remote control application.Never, ever use the sink in your kitchen for storing anything but drinking water. I'm not kidding. You may not realize that the sink is a perfect environment for mold growth. It can be virtually guaranteed to be humid (even in the winter) and usually contains a fair amount of grease, which is a great medium for things to grow on. Make your own storage containers with common materials. Much like trying to reupholster an old chair, there is such a thing as too easy a solution. Unless you are making a mold garden for fun (and I hope that was your intention), steer clear of the stuff. The body of the beetle is somewhat porous, allowing it to breathe, and the interior is almost always full of feces. The beetles may come up from the soil by running down the vines. They grow
