We report on two distinctive nanostructures observed in BaTiO(3) (001) multistructured polycrystals, the hybrid barium titanate (BAO) and hybrid barium titanate-barium zirconate (BAO-BZO) growth on (00L) oriented Nb-doped SrTiO(3) substrates. The two barium titanate polycrystals were constructed from the two distinct nanosized building blocks, i.e., an irregularly shaped columnar structure and a botryoidal-shaped unit. In addition to a detailed structural and morphological analysis, we examine the effect of the substrate structure on the formation of the hybrid barium titanate polycrystals and discuss the growth mechanism that led to the nanostructures.Queen and Doctor of Magic Mediate a Revolt against the Ministry The Royal Sisters have stood by their king during his many difficulties, whether it has been the poisoning of the king, the persecution of the homeless princes, or the imprisonment of the free and proud princes. Some call this loyalty, but to the Royal Sisters this is love and the will to protect. "We know what they did to him." ""We will not stand by and let our prince suffer for all our sins."
