Clone Stamp Brush. The Curves Adjustment Layer is designed to restore tonal value to or to brighten, sharpen, or desaturate an image. The Curves Adjustment Layer The Gradient Tool (G) takes you step-by-step through all the process of creating, transforming, and placing a gradient. Use the G to create a gradient or blend multiple shades of color together. The Gradient Tool. The Healing Brush can be used to remove blemishes, scratches, and other imperfections from an image. It is similar to the Clone Stamp, but in addition to cloning, the Healing Brush also allows you to resize an object or area of an image and grow it to fill the space. The Healing Brush. The Magic Wand Tool is designed to select a specific area of an image by scanning for a particular value. Simply click the Magic Wand Tool and then select the part of the image you want. The tool will examine the image and then attempt to find the highest level of gray. The Magic Wand. The Lasso Tool is similar to a rubber band. The Lasso Tool surrounds an object with a dotted line that you can click and drag. Once you have a desired object in place, you can do whatever you need to with it. For example, you can cut out the object or blur the edges. The Lasso Tool. The Pen Tool is similar to the Brush Tool. You can use this tool to draw lines, curves, areas, or shapes. You can also create a path or mask around an object in an image. The Pen Tool. The Pencil Tool allows you to use your mouse to draw straight lines, curves, or shapes, and change the settings on the Tool Options bar. The Pencil Tool. The Pixel Selection Tool is used to select or activate a small area of an image and then change the intensity or luminosity. When you press the "H" key, Photoshop will scroll around and demonstrate how to use the tool in different ways. The Pixel Selection Tool. The Polygonal Lasso Tool creates a closed shape around an object, which you can resize, move, and rotate. To select the Tool, hold the mouse button and click and drag over the area you want to select. The Tool automatically closes around the object as you drag. The Polygonal Lasso Tool. The Rectangle Selection Tool allows you to

What's New in the Photoshop 2021 (Version 22.1.1)?

The IBF's Stephanie Sinclair comments on the heavyweight prospects set to line up on the card in Pittsburgh. The World of Boxing podcast. 10/05/2019. Listen Now! Come November, heavyweight promises to be huge on HBO as the IBF and WBO sanction the biggest show in the division's history, a bumper 15-fight card that will see many of the champions and prospects collide at the PPG Paints Arena in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Two of the biggest names in the division - Antonio 'The Aristocrat' Thompson and Frank 'The Professor' Steward - will meet for a heavyweight title eliminator on September 12, the day the HBO Boxing After Dark bout between Anthony Joshua and Joseph Parker takes place. As the titleholder, Thompson has to be sure that he is in the best shape for a twelve round clash with the undefeated Steward, who has claimed that he will "go in and be a heavy hitter and lay him out." The pair have won championships in the past and so know each other well, although this is a new chapter for Thompson as he takes on the best fighting at his weight. The two-weight world champion, who has the opportunity to stop Miguel Cotto's comeback, will be hoping to go into the ring with a less-experienced opponent. Also fighting on the card is Hughie Fury, who will look to make amends for his recent loss to Anthony Joshua after getting into shape for a fight in September. Andrew Tabiti (6-0) has a clear path to a title shot if he can beat Tom Schwarz (17-1-1, 7 KOs) in the WBO International, which is being promoted by Premier Boxing Champions.

The undefeated 2015 Bulgarian champion is moving to the USA to join the PBC stable, which will see the tournament system through to November's showpiece event. The PBC has signed a number of fighters who join existing PBC members like Daniel Jacobs, Anthony Dirrell and Terence Crawford. A rematch with Jeff Lacy has been postponed until his November date, as the IBF champion will be aiming to reclaim the title he took from Andrzej Fonfara in Glasgow back in August. However, Lacy's exit from the organization has given Fonfara the opportunity to make the second defence of the title he won in November 2017. This time though, the Polish heavyweight will look to do it on American soil as he fights on HBO against a now unbeaten prospect. This is not the only rematch on the
