This week, Formula One was visited by world championship team bosses Louis Chiron and Alejandro Agag, who met with Bernie Ecclestone in London to discuss a few topics. It was widely assumed they would discuss a second Indian race, but that was not the case. In fact, a 'tag race' for Abu Dhabi was an informal topic of conversation. "Yes, I think it's more likely," Chiron, president of Caterham F1, told Diario Sport. "What I was told is the Grand Prix of Abu Dhabi is going to be a World Championship-deciding race." "So, if you were in the Constructors' Championship in Abu Dhabi with five points from five races, you would win the World Championship - no doubt about it," he added. Red Bull team principal Christian Horner also said he believed the Abu Dhabi race would be
