FIVE POINTS: Hawks Press Conference Five Points from the Atlanta Hawks' Media Day at Philips Arena on Monday. By The Gator: Michael Holley (@MichaelHolley) NEW YORK, N.Y. - The Hawks made some time to update media on injuries, get a medical update from GM Danny Ferry, and get an update on the front office changes during a press conference in New York City on Monday. Here are some bullet points from the press conference... — All three of Dwyane Wade's plantar fasciitis symptoms have improved, and the guard is expecting to play on Wednesday in Toronto against the Raptors. Ferry said that, if he can play, the plan is to play him for 10-12 minutes. — Ferry was asked about the narrative that Jimmy Butler and Thabo Sefolosha need to find a fit, given the Bulls' need for another perimeter defender and the Hawks' need to have better depth. Ferry said that, since they have been playing together, the two have developed a great trust level. "We have a nice relationship, not only with Jimmy and Thabo but with Jeff Teague, Brandon Jennings, Zaza (Pachulia) and Lou (Williams)," Ferry said. "I think when you have a relationship like that with your teammates that you can have a conversation with them and have confidence that they'll do everything they can to help. "I think Jimmy has done a great job, Thabo has done a great job of taking ownership of who he is, we've seen him stand up and defend his position. Jeff is a born leader, he does a great job of that. And Teague has been tremendous on the court for us, I think he's exceeded expectations. He's been a defensive leader, a playmaker. Zaza has been a fantastic teammate for us. Lou has been a true hustle guy." — Over the next two days, the team has a practice at Bryant Park,
