Council. A man in Florida has been charged with setting fire to his estranged wife's car while she was inside. The Palm Beach Sheriff's Office says a deputy pulled over a Dodge Dart on Sunday afternoon and noticed smoke coming from the front driver's side window. The deputy opened the door and found the 38-year-old driver who was unresponsive and had an injury to his arm. The man was transported to a hospital where he was treated for a broken arm. The deputy checked the trunk and found it to be on fire. Police say the man called his wife from the patrol car and said, "I f----- set her car on fire, dude."
