Shivajirao Joshi Shivajirao Joshi (; born 28 July 1944) is an Indian politician from Gujarat, India. He was the founder president of the Rashtriya Janata Party (RJD) and is a former chief minister of Gujarat, a post he held in 1986. He was also a former president of the Janata Dal (United), a major alliance partner of the then Janata Party led by him and Charan Singh.

Early life Joshi graduated from B.Sc. B.Com from the University of Mumbai. He did his B.A. from Gujarat College in 1967. He did his LL.B. from G. C. Agraharwal College of Law in 1969.
Career Joshi was a lawyer before joining politics and the then Congress party. He is considered to be a hardcore socialist and one of the first to start rural development in Gujarat.

Joshi started his political career as a Congress leader when he joined the Congress in 1967. He was Gujarat Congress Party chief in the 1970s. He became the Mayor of Ahmedabad in 1980 and held this post for four years. He resigned as mayor to contest the 1986 election to the Gujarat Legislative Assembly. He had announced his resignation in 1980 when the Congress declared he was to be the party candidate. However, Congress President Indira Gandhi overruled the move. Joshi was the founder president of the Rashtriya Janata Party, which was a breakaway from Congress party on 30 March 1987, after a long-standing split led by Joshi within the Congress Party. Joshi was elected to the Gujarat Legislative Assembly in the 1986 general election from Ghodasar Assembly Constituency, Ahmedabad. He was made deputy chief minister by Charan Singh on 22 December 1985. He was also minister of minority welfare, irrigation, power, state highways, state commerce and industries, public works and transport. He was sworn in as the chief minister of Gujarat on 23 December 1986. He resigned on 22
