Sarpa Doshā needs to be determined by a master only because of its possibility of causing the maha Doshā with a restricted permission. The numbers of Sarpa Doshā get multiplied by Dasha and when those planets are fixed to Gosha, the Brahmanas start feeling the Doshā automatically. When the counterplanets are fixed to Gosha, the Doshā is activated immediately. A birth chart is considered effective to know the maha Doshā and without the ritualistic remedies, it could be detected very easily. This is why I am making this article in order to alert you. So, when it comes to Sarpa Doshā, one must consider the impact of other planets in the horoscope. In the above example, the native's Doshā is not making him unhappy but he has to change his nature and create a different pathway in his life. Now he can be successful and rejoice with his family. To prevent effects of a Doshā, one may perform a Vedic Yagna, Godly Purification, Reciting Mantra or a Divine Homam. One may also put a Puja for a long life or ask for divine intervention or protection for the native. Sarpa Doshā is a hard task to be performed and a great deviation from the path of righteousness. One can only realize the Doshā in an individual's birth chart and should use the three remedies in the presence of a master so that the Doshā can be charged off. Sarpa in Sanskrit signifies an evil force, and Sarpa dosha is a combination of malefic planets in a natal chart. As per astrological view this combination of planets result in no progeny, unhappiness and trouble. These planets can become the barriers to make the native seem as a loser from the very beginning and even after the completion of lifetime, thus giving them a lot of misery. It is considered very crucial to look at such combination of malefic planets if one is performing individual consultation. Then it can be corrected by some powerful prayers or a form of yoga specific to that planet, which can enable the native with abundant life.
